

ACADEMIC ENGLISH

Academic English is a package of six parts intended for PhD students and academic staff who need English for presentations at conferences, writing papers, and also for study stays abroad. It is based on many years' experience of teaching PhD students and staff and contains the following parts:

Academic English I

A Remedial Course in English Grammar with Exercises and Key

Academic English II

Guidelines for Presentations, Discussions and Chairing

Academic English III

Guidelines for Academic Writing

Academic English IV

Higher Engineering Education

Academic English V

Supplement

Academic English VI

Listening

Academic English is a pilot project and therefore the authors welcome any comments and suggestions. We also wish to point out that this is by no means the final version. The individual chapters are regularly updated. The final version is subject to alterations, corrections, and additions.
